JOINT BASE ANDREWS SEEKS PUBLIC INPUT ON ENVIRONMENTAL COMMUNITY OUTREACH

12/8/2017 – JOINT BASE ANDREWS, MD – Joint Base Andrews is seeking public feedback regarding its environmental program at the Brandywine Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office (DRMO) Yard. Members of the public are invited to participate in a survey from July 8-25, 2017 that will provide the Air Force information on public concerns and preferred ways for Base officials to communicate with the public about its cleanup efforts regarding the former Brandywine DRMO Yard. The DRMO is located near the intersection of Brandywine Road and Cherry Tree Crossing Road in Prince George's County, Maryland, approximately 8 miles south-southeast of the Base.

Information received from the survey will be incorporated into an updated Community Involvement Plan, which is a public document required for federal sites undergoing environmental cleanup. The Community Involvement Plan will identify issues most important to the community for site remediation and specify the outreach activities that Base officials will use to address community concerns and expectations.

There are three ways to participate in the community survey, open from July 8-25, 2017: in person, by phone or online. Schedule an in-person or phone interview by contacting 240-232-8944 or jbabrandywinecommunity@ageiss-inc.com by July 12, 2017. Complete the online survey at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/BrandywineDRMOCIP>. In-person and phone interviews will be conducted July 17-18, 2017. Online surveys must be submitted by July 25, 2017.

Additional information on JBA's environmental program can be found at the Joint Base Andrews Public Affairs Office; the Prince George's County (Surratts-Clinton Branch) Library, located at 9400 Piscataway Road, Clinton, Maryland 20735, by phone (301) 868-9200; or at the Joint Base Andrews Environmental webpage (<http://www.jba.af.mil/About-Us/Environmental/>); or at <http://www.galendriscol.com/community-involvement-plans-1/>.
